Lausche Pay Hike To Aid Collegians

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, is going to use his $7,500 salary increase to set up a scholarship fund "for needy Ohio youths wanting to go to college."

Lausche announced Wednesday that when the pay increase takes effect in January he hopes friends will help him to augment the fund.

Lausche reminded newsmen that he opposed the boost of senators' salaries to $30,000 annually, voted by the recent Congress.

"I said I would not accept the pay increase because it was not justified and not in the best interests of the taxpayers and the economy of our country," the Cleveland senator said.

Busy Season End In Sight for PO

The end of a busy and hectic season is in sight for personnel at the Circleville Post Office.

Now that the mountainous volume of mail is leveling off, Postmaster Charles H. Walters announced that the local office will be closed all day Christmas. He said only special delivery mail will be delivered.

Postmaster Walters said rural mailmen will operate Saturday and the stamp window at the local post office will be open from 8:30 to 10:30 a. m. Special deliveries also will be handled.

Mail received at the post office here tomorrow and Saturday will be dispatched as usual.

WALTERS said the flow of mail as of today had been heavy as expected. However, the volume is beginning to decrease with Christmas only one day away.

The postmaster expressed high praise to local citizens who mailed early. He also commended the many postal patrons who used ZIP codes on their addresses.

Walters said the exact quantity of mail handled here will not be known until figures are compiled shortly after Christmas. "It will be a large amount," he added.

U.S., Vietnamese Hold To Stalemate Views

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Neither the United States nor Vietnamese military leaders showed signs of yielding today in their showdown over military interference in South Viet Nam's government.

On the U.S. side, informed sources said that the United States would probably withhold important new aid expected in Saigon for the Vietnamese war effort in about a month unless the crisis is settled within a few days.

Sources on the Vietnamese side said the defiant officers were considering an anti-American campaign that might include street demonstrations. The removal of U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor was reported to be an objective.

Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, the commander of the Vietnamese armed forces, appeared to hold undisputed control over his officers. There was no indication that Khanh planned to acquiesce to U.S. demands that the military end interference in the civilian government.

U.S. policy makers in Saigon reportedly feel that Khanh should step down because they feel renewed cooperation with him probably is impossible.

Khanh was clearly working to achieve Taylor's recall. Taylor was known to believe that while the crisis should be settled as quickly as possible, the United States must make a firm and determined stand against military interference in the civilian government.

U.S. officials contend that the generals have been unwilling to assume the responsibilities of government but insist on the right to overturn the government when things do not go as they wish.

In Washington, sources in President Johnson's administration voiced hope that the semicoup by Khanh's young generals would turn out to be only a temporary setback in the long search for an effective government in South Viet Nam.

Boys Help To Capture 'Most Wanted Criminal'

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — The FBI could scratch the name of Alfred Oponowicz from its list of 10 Most Wanted Criminals today, but only after a bow to a group of grade school boys who ran down the dangerous, armed and wounded fugitive.

Four policemen dragged Oponowicz from a ditch Wednesday night. He covered three face down, weak from loss of blood from shoulder and hip wounds received in a gun battle with Secret Service agents and Lake County deputy sheriffs Tuesday afternoon. Although his gun was beside him, he didn't try to use it.

It was a group of eight boys, aged about 8 to 12, who spotted the 38-year-old desperado and chased him across several vacant lots before losing him in a field near the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad yards here.

Neighbors, alerted by the racket the boys made, called police and a few minutes later the big manhunt was over. It had started 16 hours earlier and involved more than 100 police officers and a State Highway Patrol helicopter.

Not until Wednesday night—nearly 12 hours after he overpowered a guard at Lake County Memorial Hospital and fled with the guard's gun and clothing—he took from an orderly—was the true identification of Oponowicz known to the searchers.

He had given his name as Robert Bennett and his age as 29 when he was arrested at this home five miles south of here Tuesday by raiders who seized $50,000 in counterfeit money, along with printing equipment and a small arsenal of arms.

Oponowicz was wounded at the time of his arrest in an exchange of shots with four Secret Service agents and two deputy sheriffs. He had snatched a pistol from beneath a blanket covering a year-old girl held in the arms of a tiny brunette who said she was Mrs. Nora Bennett, 25.

Authorities learned Wednesday night, they said, that the woman was Mrs. Iva Marie Cook, 25, of Cleveland, who had been Oponowicz' girl friend for about three years.

Early today Oponowicz was moved to the prison ward of Metropolitan General Hospital in Cleveland. His girl friend, under $50,000 bond and charged with possession of counterfeit money and counterfeit printing plates, is in the Cuyahoga County Jail in Cleveland. Her baby is under care of the Lake County Welfare Department.

Once Around Roundtown

The special greeting is from Postmaster Charles W. Walters and his post office personnel. . . Although at times they were almost buried under with mail, they were still able to come up with a cheerful outlook today. . .

Occupants in the apartment said the three men have been involved in numerous arguments in the past.

No charges have been filed as yet. Several persons living in the immediate area are scheduled for questioning today. Sheriff Spangler said. He also plans to confer with Robert H. Huffer, county prosecutor.

LAST NIGHT'S double homicide was the second tragic killing in Pickaway County this month. On Dec. 10, Mrs. Ersil Thraikill, 74, Mrs. Clara Hoover, 44, were shot by Mrs. Hoover's husband, Francis, who then shot himself.

Baldwin was a carpenter. Lewis was employed by the Circleville Auto and Truck Wrecking firm.

Ealey is employed by the W. L. Johnson Construction Co. of Columbus.

Funeral arrangements will be made after autopsies have been completed, according to the sheriff's department.

Double Homicide Shocks Village

By STEVE JONES

The quiet village of Williamsport, 10 miles west of here, was the scene of a double homicide at 11:10 p. m. yesterday.

Dead are Gail Lewis, 40, and Emanuel Baldwin, 55. Both suffered several bullet wounds in the upper chest area. Death was believed to be nearly instantaneous.

Arrested for investigation of murder was Daniel Ealey, 40.

The three men occupied separate apartments in the Wood's Building in Williamsport where the shooting occurred. The ground floor houses the Red and White Grocery Store and a restaurant.

THERE are six apartments on the second floor of the building, all occupied. But there were no eyewitnesses to the killing, according to officers.

Pickaway County Sheriff Walton W. Spangler said the murder is still under investigation.

However, from statements of occupants of the building and other persons, Sheriff Spangler has been able to reconstruct an account of the killing. Here is the sequence of events as compiled by the sheriff:

The suspect, Ealey, had returned home at about 10:30 p. m. Other occupants of the building told the sheriff he apparently had an argument with his wife.

He then walked down the corridor of the building, and knocked on the doors of the two men. A scuffle of some sort ensued, he allegedly drew a 9-shot 22-caliber revolver and shot both men.

Although the autopsy, which is being conducted today in Columbus, has not been completed, Baldwin appeared to have been shot four times and Lewis five. The suspect then fled the scene. He was seen leaving the building by a witness, Rose Ann Cook, who lived there.

HE DROVE away in his r. But the auto stopped at the edge of the village, in front of the home of Lonzie Rigby. He went into the Rigby residence and asked to be taken to his brother's home at Five Points.

Thousands in Flood - Hit West Are Homeless on Christmas Eve

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thousands of victims in five flood-stricken Western states were homeless on this Christmas Eve, and more joined in the exodus to escape new flooding as rain pounded the afflicted areas for the third consecutive day.

Soiled Christmas trees floated among the surging debris. The savage Pacific storm sent dozens of mountain rivers spilling into scores of cities and towns in California, Washington, Oregon, Nevada and Idaho.

At least 28 persons have died and more than 5,000 left homeless. Damage has been so great that officials have stopped estimating.

Parts of every state have been declared disaster areas.

Air Force, Navy, National Guard, Red Cross, Coast Guard, and Civil Defense units were working around the clock with local officials to rescue thousands stranded by high water, slides and snow.

Rain and winds slackened briefly Wednesday but another low pressure system moved in from the Pacific and the heavy downpour resumed. The Weather Bureau forecast rain and strong winds from northern California to Washington through Friday.

In California's rugged north country, entire communities were cut off by merciless torrents that tore out at least 15 bridges, knocked out telephone lines and washed away huge sections of highways.

Hundreds of persons were trapped without food or medicine, clinging to rooftops or perched on islands awaiting rescue.

Every town along the Eel River in northwestern California was inundated. In the hamlet of Rio Dell city officials ordered phone and power poles toppled to convert the main street into an emergency landing strip. About 2,000 refugees waited for helicopters to rescue them.

Pepperwood, population 500, is gone—nothing visible but a few tree tops above the sea of water, air observers reported.

In Garberville, three pregnant women were reported in labor and in need of medical care.

Civil defense officials have written off the flood communities of South Fork, Myers Flat, Stafford and Weott, whose residents fled Tuesday.

Since 5 a. m. Wednesday the 2,500 inhabitants of Guerneville have lived on an island in the midst of the swirling Russian River. In the little Stork Club saloon rescuers and flood victims stood knee-deep in muddy water, making jokes about the sign reading "No Dancing Allowed."

Further north, near the coastal city of Eureka, about 1,000 refugees, including women and small children, stood on high sections of U. S. 101 waving to (Continued on Page Two)

Effort Made To Return Man to Jail

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Joey Naples, a Youngstown rackets figure, is out of prison today—but the attorney general plans to try to have put him back inside.

Atty. Gen. William Saxbe said his office would join with Mahoning County Prosecutor Clyde Osborne today in asking a rehearing on the federal court order granting Naples freedom.

Saxbe said an assistant who agreed to the release ordered Monday by U. S. Dist. Judge Mel G. Underwood, was without authority when he acted. Underwood granted a writ of habeas corpus on grounds a search warrant used to obtain evidence against Naples had been improperly obtained.

He gave Mahoning County 60 days in which to take new action against Naples, who had been convicted on charges of promoting a numbers game and receiving stolen property.

Naples was convicted in 1962. Two older brothers were killed in a gangland fashion in Youngstown.

2 Accidents Investigated

The Pickaway County Sheriff's Department investigated two automobile accidents this morning, neither of which involved a serious injury.

Shortly after 3 a. m. Steve Smith, 1235 S. Court, escaped injury when he swerved to avoid striking another car in the rear, rolling his vehicle over and destroying several rods of fence. The accident occurred on County Road 511 just north of Circleville. Deputy George Linder, who investigated, noted the road was wet and slippery.

Shortly after 7 a. m. two autos struck a portable feed mill being pulled by a tractor on Route 22 just east of New Holland.

Sustaining minor injuries was Marion Westveer, 21, of Hamilton, driver of one of the cars involved. The accident is still under investigation by Deputy Sheriff William Pontious.

The cars and the feed mill were all extensively damaged, according to Pontious.

areas troubled by controversy and fighting, joy remained only a hope.

Men were fighting and dying in the jungles of the Congo and Viet Nam in the Christmas of 1964. Yet most parts of the Christian world were at peace, however uneasy it might be.

"We must prepare ourselves well for Christmas, rekindling in our hearts the desire, the thirst, the anxiety for the living God and the blessed certainty of finding Christ, the God-made man," said Pope Paul VI in an audience at Vatican City.

From Washington, President Johnson sent "warmest Christmas greetings" to the 22,000 U.S. servicemen who are spending the holiday in Viet Nam fighting a war against communism.

Most of the men there will eat a sumptuous Christmas dinner despite the war, but for others in the field Friday will be just another day of war.

Comedian Bob Hope evoked a wildly enthusiastic welcome with a surprise visit to an air base in Viet Nam. The troops were told Hope would arrive only a few hours before he entertained them.

More fortunate American servicemen elsewhere in the world were not engaged in open warfare.

In South Korea, another divided nation, U.S. servicemen will light a 20-foot cross on a hill overlooking Communist positions across the demilitarized zone.

In West Germany, Lt. Gen. William W. Quinn of the U.S. 7th Army urged his men to pause and "reflect upon the ancient Christian message of peace on earth and good will toward our fellow man."

The U.S. Army's Berlin brigade is playing host to more than 2,000 needy persons in West Berlin. In return, more than 200 American soldiers have been invited to share traditional roast goose in Berlin homes.

Thousands of West Berliners passed through the Berlin wall to spend the holiday with relatives in the Communist sector of the divided city. The Communists permit the crossing by special agreement with the West Berlin government.

In the holy city of Jerusalem, the wall between Jordan and Israel opened today to let Christian Arabs from Israel join their families in Jordan for Christmas. As dawn broke, a small nun — the first visitor — walked through the Mandelbaum Gate. Some 4,500 are expected to cross in all.

There was no sign of tension at the gate despite a new clash Wednesday between Jordanians and Israelis.

Fulbright Sours on U.S. Aid Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., says he will no longer steer the administration's foreign aid bills through the Senate. The Washington Post reported today.

Fulbright, as chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, has borne the major responsibility on the nation's international undertakings, including military and economic aid to other countries.

Fulbright indicated he does not oppose the general principle of foreign aid and has no complaint about the administration of the program.

But he said he thinks the administration should separate the aid bill into functions — military, economic, loan, grant, humanitarian and so on.

"Why should it all be in one big conglomerate mass?" he asked.

He said he is not afraid of skyrocketing costs if the Pentagon were given responsibility for military aid — "The military gets all it wants anyway." There have been suggestions in the past that the military part of foreign aid should be handled in connection with the defense budget.

Fulbright said he had notified Secretary of State Dean Rusk by letter of his feelings.

helicopters that rushed in with relief supplies.

For many children it will be a sad Christmas. Trees and gifts became unessential baggage in the flight from the rushing waters. Hundreds will spend it in high school gymnasiums, Red Cross shelters or sharing it with strange families.

California's 14 flood stricken counties, with their total population of 558,200, cover 37,802 square miles — most of it wooded, mountainous terrain that makes rescue operations and communications almost impossible.

The Red Cross beefed up its forces in key areas to supply clothing, bedding and food. Police from as far south as San Francisco were flown in to relieve exhausted sheriff's deputies in northwestern Humboldt County.

The aircraft carrier Bennington steamed toward Eureka today to add its 20 helicopters to those of the Coast Guard.

A large food chain ordered 40,000 pounds of canned goods and produce flown from San Francisco to Eureka and promised unlimited credit to victims.

A 20-man search party plowed through dense underbrush 20 miles north of Eureka toward the wreckage of a Coast Guard helicopter downed Tuesday.

A search plane spotted the wreckage late Wednesday, but there was no indication that the three crewmen had survived.

Only one known death has been reported in the state, and that came Tuesday when a Montana man's car plunged off a bridge into a river.

Yuba City, in the area where 38 persons drowned in the 1955 Christmas Eve flood, was at the brink of evacuation Wednesday as the Feather River rose 76 feet above its bed. But a break in the storm lessened the threat and the city's 11,000 residents stood fast although warned they might have to leave if the storm worsens.

At Yosemite National Park 800 persons prepared for an extended stay after all roads became submerged by water and logs.

In Oregon, Gov. Mark Hatfield warned that the state still faces critical times in the next 36 to 48 hours despite a gradual receding of most flood-swollen rivers.

At Grant's Pass the Rogue River dropped eight feet in 14 hours but new rains left nearby residents without hope of relief from flooding.

National Guard and Air Force personnel were sent to North Albany 25 miles south of Salem early today to begin evacuating some 200 families.

In the Oregon state capital the flooding Mill Creek endangered a hospital and 100 patients were among the thousands forced to higher ground.

City police termed a local driver "lucky" after the man's auto was demolished in an unusual accident at 2:41 a. m. today on N. Court St. near Seyfert Ave.

Glenn Knows True Value Of Health

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Ohio-born astronaut John Glenn, the first American to orbit the earth, says he knows now what people mean when they say good health is not appreciated until it is lost.

"Truer words were never spoken," Glenn said Wednesday at his home here.

Glenn, a native of New Concord, Ohio, resigned from space work last February to seek the Democratic Senate nomination in Ohio. But a fall in his bathroom and an inner ear injury knocked him out of politics. He is now due to resign his Marine Corps commission as a colonel Jan. 4.

He will work for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, of which Houston's Manned Spacecraft Center is a division.

"We haven't signed anything yet but it's understood I will spend most of my time with the space program," he said.

Glenn, 43, said his position as a director for the Royal Crown Bottling Co. will not take a large amount of his time.

"We have no plans for moving from Houston," he said.

Tonight grown men stood around a wilting Christmas tree in shirt sleeves and short trousers singing carols. The tree stood on a mound of sandbags. Its base was covered by a white bed sheet.

There were a handful of American children — missionaries, dependents and children of the American civilian doctors who spend two or more years working with the Vietnamese in their hospitals. The American children stood side by side with the little brown Vietnamese children whose parents work inside the compound.

I couldn't swear that behind those little brown eyes lay a brain schooled in Christianity, or whether the gleam in their eyes saw the figure of the Christ child or the gaily decorated packages.

But if my God is the God I know, he won't mind.

When the presents were handed out, the American children helped the timid little hands carefully open their gifts. It seemed the smaller the child the bigger the present.

Some American children received the small, less-expensive presents. I asked one little 10-year-old girl how she liked her present.

"That la rat dep," she said, I frowned.

"That means it is beautiful," an American child said.

"Oh," I said.

The little American girl leaned over and whispered, "I asked mommy to save the big ones for home. Theirs — she pointed to the Vietnamese — should be the big ones."

She left me to go over and admire their presents.

When the party was over I went back to my room. I wanted to be alone with the pictures of you and the children. I sat down at my desk and gazed at you for a long while, just dreaming.

I almost opened my Christmas present; but then I am a grown man. I guess I can wait. At least I'll try.

The music on the armed forces radio station told of chestnuts roasting over an open fire and "yet in the dark street shineth the everlasting light."

I picked up the Christmas cards I had received. . . .

There was a card from Mr. Yen, a Vietnamese combat photographer. "Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year" written in Vietnamese, English and French. Well, you can't go wrong there. And engraved was a picture showing Yen with his camera over his shoulder wading waist deep across a stream alongside a Vietnamese rifle squad.

And a card from each one of our four little ones. And then there was the one card from you — the gal who made it all possible. The same hair, the same eyes, the same mouth.

I got to feeling pretty low. So I decided to turn in for the night.

I started getting dressed for bed when I noticed an unmarked envelope on my pillow. The houseboy must have put it there while I was at the party.

Scrawled in a halting handwriting were the words: "You have left your country and your family to come here and to stand with us in the fight for freedom. We are very grateful to you. On the occasion of Christmas and the New Year we wish you a good year, good health to your family and that our combat obtains victory."

It was signed Yung, a student of Gia Long secondary school.

I felt better. I turned out the lights and opened the curtain. I looked up into the moonlit sky. In the distance the artillery boomed in the damp, still air.

Yes, I can wait until Christmas to open my present. Love, Don.

Egyptian Chief Tells U.S. He Can Do Without Aid

CAIRO (AP) — Relations between the United States and the United Arab Republic deteriorated further today in the wake of a speech by President Gamal Abdel Nasser telling America in effect to take its aid and "go to hell."

Speaking in Port Said Wednesday, Nasser accused U.S. Ambassador Lucius Battle of trying to put economic pressure on Egypt and declared: "Anyone who does not like our attitude can drink from the sea. And if the Mediterranean is not big enough, we will give him the Red Sea to drink, too."

To "drink from the sea" is the Egyptian slang equivalent of "go to the devil or 'go to hell.'"

No official U.S. comment was available immediately in Washington. U.S. officials indicated, however, that a request by Nasser for $35 million worth of surplus food would be shelved because of his aid to the Congolese rebels.

Nasser's outburst apparently was touched off by U.S. accusations that he is aiding the Congolese rebels and intimations that U.S. aid would be curtailed because of this.

Speaking to a rally celebrating the end of the 1956 Israeli-British-French invasion of the Suez, Nasser declared:

"We have sent arms to the Congolese rebels and we will continue to send arms because the rebels need them and need the support of the honest nations of the world. The U.A.R. cannot watch aggression against the Congo and stand handcluffed."

"We do not accept any words against us and we will cut off the tongue of anyone who uses them. We do not need their money."

Relations between the United States and the U.A.R. worsened when a mob sacked the U.S. Information agency library in Cairo last month in protest against the American-Belgian mission in the Congo. Last week an American oil company's plane was shot down by the Egyptian air force as it was flying from Jordan to Libya, and the two crewmen were killed.

The United States has been supplying the U.A.R. about $140 million a year in food under a three-year agreement that expires next June 30. Nasser's government had asked for an additional $35 million worth for the coming year to ease a serious shortage.

Nasser said Ambassador Battle, in a call on the U.A.R. minister of supplies Tuesday, "stayed only two minutes" and "said he could not possibly speak about (supplies) because the conduct of the Egyptians was not good."

"If the Americans want to give us aid at the price of dominating our policy," Nasser told the cheering crowd, "I say we are sorry. We are ready to cut our rations and minimize our daily consumption to keep our independence."

He called the U.S.-Belgian rescue operation in the Congo "aggression similar to the 1956 attack on Suez" and said his government cannot recognize Congolese Premier Moise Tshombe as "the legitimate representative of the Nongoles people."

Soviet Deputy Premier Alexander Shelepin was beside Nasser as he told the crowd: "The Soviet people will always stand by your side under all conditions, and let everybody rest assured of this."

The Visit of the Wise Men

THE CIRCUMSTANCES SURROUNDING THE WISE
MEN AND THE INFANT JESUS

Scripture—Matthew 2.

By R. H. Ramsey
THE PARTICULAR event assigned to today's lesson must have occurred some time after the visit of the shepherds to the manger, for there is no indication that the Wise Men found the holy family in that humble place. Perhaps they had been given more suitable lodging by that time.

The Wise Men were of that class of magi who devoted their lives to the pursuit of scientific truth and astronomy. Where they lived, we do not know exactly, but presumably they were Babylonians. While we normally speak of the three Wise Men, there is no indication in Matthew's account of the exact number, only that three major gifts were presented to the Christ Child.

Matthew 2:2 is a fascinating verse. Without preamble we find these Wise Men have a knowledge that the King of the Jews has been born and they have seen a particular star which they called "his."

GOLDEN TEXT

"Arise, shine; for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee. And the Gentiles shall come to thy light, and kings to the brightness of thy rising."—Isaiah 60:1,3.

There is no doubt that the star was sent of God for this specific occasion, for it cannot be identified on any of the old astronomical charts. Because they had read the ancient books of the Hebrews, and because all the Orient was expecting a Messiah, the Wise Men knew this star would lead them to the King for whom they searched.

Their inquiries in Jerusalem came to the attention of Herod, who was exceedingly suspicious of all who were even supposed to be rivals for his throne. Having little acquaintance with the Old Testament prophets, Herod called in men who knew the sacred writings well and put the Wise Men's questions to them.
Turning to the book of Micah, they repeated his prophecy made 700 years previous (Micah 5:2).

If Herod was troubled by the Wise Men's questions, he became doubly troubled on learning that, according to ancient prophecy, he who was to be King of the Jews would be born in the little town of Bethlehem.

Third GOP Faction
Studies Squabble

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep.
John V. Lindsay of New York, spokesman for a group describing themselves as moderate-liberal House Republicans, says Rep. Gerald R. Ford's candidacy for the House GOP leadership "is a general improvement."

But Lindsay said his group known as the Wednesday Club, took no position in the leadership fight between Ford of Michigan and Rep. Charles A.
Halleck of Indiana, the present leader.

Lindsay's group is composed of about 20 of the 140 House Republicans.

PENRYDE UDRAETH, Wales (AP) — After years of voicing despair for the future of the human race, Bertrand Russell at 92 is now more hopeful.

Only three years ago the philosopher, one of the most controversial figures of his time, put the odds for a nuclear war
as high as 6 to 4.

But in his home in the quiet Welsh hills where he spends most of his time these days, Russell now says: "I think it's a little better now. I think a great many people do believe that a nuclear war can be fatal and destroy everybody. And I think that has caused a number of people to be against a nuclear war. It's almost a common place now."

"I should put the odds the other way now: 6 to 4 there will not be a nuclear war."

An aristocrat who doesn't believe in aristocracy, Russell's campaign for nuclear peace is the culmination of more than a half century of battle for pacifism and against Bolshevism and Hitler, a crusade to tell people how to educate their children, conduct their marriage life, protect themselves against what he considered government encroachments on their freedom
... even to advise them how to be happy.

He has encountered much criticism, has been to jail and has even been physically attacked. Yet he has never wavered in the fervor of his beliefs, regardless of the unpopularity it often has brought upon him.

To a great deal of the world, he has been known as a man of passion and prejudice.

To a guest in the warmth of his modest home overlooking the winding Glaslyn River, this passionate skeptic is a charming host with a keen, penetrating mind that sparkles with gaiety and humor. He laughs often and he even makes jest of his health difficulties.

"I live almost entirely on liquids," he said in his slow, distinctive voice. "I have to be most careful about solid food.
Things stick in my throat from trying to swallow the pronouncements of politicians."

Part of his liquid diet consists of seven double scotches and water a day.

Many people contend that Russell has frequently reversed his stand on issues, voicing different opinions at different times. He supported war against Hitler, although known as a pacifist.

"My views have changed gradually," he said, "and they've changed in harmony with changes in the world."

Three years ago he was quoted as saying he thought the United States would start a preventive nuclear war.

"I shouldn't say so now," he said in the interview at his home. "There are still very powerful forces in America in that direction, but I don't think they will really get the world into a nuclear war."

Opponents of Russell charge that he is too sure of himself.
They maintain that he impulsively condemned the Warren Commission report on the Kenedy assassination before he possibly could have read it. To this, he replied: "I don't think, taking it generally, that I have a dogmatic temperament. I am very skeptical about most things and I think that skepticism in me is deeper than positive statements. But, of course, if you get into propaganda you have to make positive statements."

"As for the Warren report,
well I read a great deal of it.
There it is," he pointed to a copy which was among 10 or more books he was in the process of reading. "I had read enough to know that it's all sham and humbug."

Lord Russell confines his work these days to his peace foundation. He often travels the 275 miles or so to London from his Welsh retreat.

Years ago he said he looked forward to quiet, peaceful re-

Amount of New Excise Tax Cut
Being Debated

WASHINGTON (AP) — A year ago the administration was trying hard to get Congress to pass a massive income tax cut.
It succeeded.

The reverse may be true in 1965. The administration may have to put on the brakes to prevent eager legislators from taking a huge whack out of the government's excise tax revenues which add up to $14.5 billion a year.

Officials say they hope the promised excise reduction will be tailored to fit the needs of the economy and the budget. But some Congress members have demonstrated they would gladly make a sweeping cut in the unpopular, cost-boosting sales levies.

There has been some informed speculation that the cuts will not exceed $2 billion. Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon has mentioned possible figures as low as $500 million and as high as $4 billion, depending on how much stimulation the economy needs at the time.

Other matters which will keep administration economists busy in 1965 include:

—A higher budget, both on the spending and revenue sides, with expenditures approaching the $100-billion mark despite some economies in defense.

—The problem of keeping more dollars at home in order to reduce further the deficit in international payments.

—The prospect of a budget deficit between $2 billion and $4 billion in fiscal 1966, following a $5.7 deficit for the current fiscal year ending next June 30.

—Consideration of a proposal to eliminate or reduce the silver content of coins to relieve a world shortage of silver.

—A possible reduction of $250 million or more in the taxes of large corporations through administrative changes in depreciation rules.

—Consideration of income tax revision designed to close loopholes.

Treasury officials prefer a cautious approach to the vast array of excise taxes because of the possible effect on business.
While enactment of a multibillion-dollar reduction would give the total economy a strong stimulus, the expectation of a cut could hurt the sale of some consumer products during the period of congressional hearings, debate, and legislation.

A minimum cut would be confined to elimination of the 10 per cent retail tax on furs, jewelry, cosmetics, handbags, luggage and similar items. This would not have a great effect on buying habits.

However, if consumers felt the tax would be eliminated on automobiles, television sets, and similar large items enough purchases might be postponed to cause a slump in some industries. The saving on a lower-priced automobile would be more than $250.

Although President Johnson received requests totaling $108 billion for the 1966 budget, it seems likely that he will

Too Large for Words

Some things are hard to overstate. The idea is just too big for exaggeration, no matter how hard we try. We can start early and stay with the task until late; we can call in all the symbols we can think of to enrich our paltry vocabulary.

We can appeal to the eye with color and to the ear with music. We can put into practice the adage that actions speak louder than words. We can do our level best to frame the thought we have in mind — and still fail to do it justice.

True, it's a large concept that enlists all of these efforts and all these devices and still defies them. But the one that pervades the atmosphere at this season is of such proportions that we've been working on its expression for weeks. That is why stores have been full of shoppers buying gifts, why decorations have brightened the streets, why carols have vibrated on the winter air, why gift lists have haunted our daylight hours and kept us awake nights.

In many lands, in many times, Christmas has meant many things. First and foremost, of course, it means for millions the birth of Jesus Christ, whose example and teaching, over the centuries, have emphasized God's goodness and man's dignity.

How do people celebrate this birthday of the great prime-mover of the past two millennia? By street parades and resounding oratory? Hardly. By worship? Certainly but even modern Americans do so without any feeling of being small or insignificant. Instead, the true Christian's spirit seems to expand with him as he worships.

Besides churchgoing, how else is Christmas celebrated? Gently, peacefully, by most of us. The evergreen tree stands silent and bright in the corner. Children have the livingroom floor to themselves as they rip off wrappings and squeal in delight over their presents. Later, relatives and friends may gather for a grand dinner — with the muted sound of Christmas carols in the background.

On a day when everyone is a king (or queen) isn't it strange—and wonderful — how people celebrate the birthday of Him called King, perhaps for want of a better word?

Make It Non-Alcoholic

If you plan to get behind the wheel of a car during the holiday season, that traditional cup of Christmas cheer ought to be non-alcoholic. The National Safety Council reports that more than half of all the drivers involved in fatal accidents in past Christmas seasons had been drinking.

The council already is more than unusually gloomy because Americans are certain to establish in 1964 a new record for road deaths. The figure will be just under 50,000. Almost two million will be injured seriously enough this year to be disabled beyond the day of the accident.

If it isn't realistic to expect people to stop drinking at parties, they should turn to "pool driving" in which one member of a neighborhood or family group going to a party by car be designated the group's driver — and teetotaler. The system is all the rage in Sweden, where a drinking driver faces an automatic jail sentence.

Police in Sweden will even drive the drinker and his car home for a fee.

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP) — Santa's sleigh will be more jam-packed tonight with goodies than ever before. There will be one or more economic gains for almost every American — workers, investors, merchants, consumers, manufacturers, taxpayers — to mark a year that has been more than usually kind to most.

Wall Streeters are happy with the biggest volume of stock trading ever. For many brokerage house workers there are visions of big yearend bonuses. Main Streeters are rejoicing in record retail sales — with no letdown yet in sight — and with customers upgrading their purchases this year.

Consumers are counting increased incomes from larger take-home pay or fees or investments. And they can be relieved to know that the cost of living, while still rising slowly, isn't trying to jump higher than Santa's reindeer, as some had feared earlier in the year. Stockholders are rejoicing that dividends are running 10 per cent above 1963, that year-end extras have been generous, and that the year has produced a spurt of stock splits, as well as generally higher stock prices than a year ago.

Man Unknown Year Ago Now Is Storm Center

WASHINGTON (AP) — The sound and fury of a violent political storm rages over the head of a young man who was almost unknown a year ago—Dean Burch, chairman of the Republican National Committee.

It's an imposing title that Burch, 36, carries. But what does it mean? Is the party chairman a man of power — a gray eminence lurking behind the throne — or is he simply an administrator or figurehead.

One former national chairman, Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky, sees the national committee chairman as a party housekeeper and not worth any "bloodletting" in the Republican dispute.

Not so, says Gov. Robert E. Smylie of Idaho. One of the leaders of the Burch-must-go forces in the GOP, Smylie says the way things are now the national chairman is neither "a mere figurehead, nor a housekeeper."

"Smylie doesn't know anything about the national chairman's job," retorts William E. Miller, who was Barry Goldwater's running mate and Burch's predecessor as party chairman.

Generally, the job of chairman is to keep the party machinery oiled and humming between elections, to see to it that money is raised, to cool off party feuds and to rally the troops during campaigns.

Many chairmen have been little more than front men who have tuxedo, will travel. Most have been noted political figures working part time at it. Burch, protégé of Goldwater, is a full-time chairman with a $30,000-a-year salary.

One thing to keep in mind in trying to define the duties of a chairman is that time, events, the pressure cooker of politics and the man himself all have a hand in molding the job.

For instance, the chairman of a party out of power, such as Burch, must function differently from the chairman of a party in power, such as the Democrats' John F. Kennedy.

Bailey must labor in the shadow and under the orders of the unquestioned supreme commander of the Democratic party, President Johnson.

And this is a key to the present GOP battle crackling around Burch.

With no president to answer to, will he step into a vacuum of leadership, tighten his control of party machinery and reinforce a conservative image that GOP liberals and moderates feel will destroy the party.

"As the months wear on," Smylie said of Burch at the recent GOP governors meeting in Denver, Colo., "the present chairman will tend ever more strongly to create and solidify the image of a party that the people would not use."

A president provides most of the image for the party in power. He has that magnificent forum of the White House, under the concentrated glare of international publicity.

Who provides the image for the party out of power, in this case the Republicans. The national chairman certainly contributes to it, for his finger is on the party's propaganda button. The mimeograph machines grind at his command.

Newsman rush to him when they want the GOP position on this or that. He can be on camera and in the news daily. By his control of the propaganda organs it is possible for him to help one politician, hurt another, boost himself.

Thus "Who will be the voice of the GOP" is at the heart of the Republican battle over the chairmanship.

Those who want Burch ousted argue that he would create too conservative an image of the Republicans, that he would be a constant reminder of Goldwater's campaign and crushing defeat.

But others argue that the party image will be made on Capitol Hill, not in the offices of the national committee.

Burch and Goldwater say the GOP leadership — and thus most of the image-making — will lie securely in the hands of the Republican leaders in Congress, as practically always is the case for the party out of power.

A spokesman described Burch as feeling that his role as chairman would be an administrator — more of a creative administrator than a housekeeper, however.

Whatever the varying views on the national chairmanship, it apparently is important enough to fight over — and the central issue of a GOP summit conference of Goldwater, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

After their meeting Wednesday, Dec. 10, in New York it was even more obvious that Burch was on the spot.

In essence, the three men who have carried the GOP presidential banner in the last three elections agreed that Burch must have widespread support in order to pull the party together from its shattering defeat. A simple majority of votes on the Republican National Committee would not be enough, they indicated.

The national committee is scheduled to meet Jan. 22-23 in Chicago to consider the problem of its leadership. As the situation stacks up now, the vote would be extremely close.

Item From The Mailbag

Dear CHS journalism class, My journalism teacher here at Roosevelt High School at Des Moines, Iowa, Mr. Donald Haley, asked to see "The Red and Black" page. I showed it to him and he was very complimentary. He said it was "very good" and could teach the "Round-up" a few things. I was so glad he liked it — though there shouldn't have been any question! He also said the Circleville staff was doing a much better job than other school papers of comparable size that he'd seen.

I'm sending a copy of the "Round-up", which comes out every two weeks and is published by the journalism II class. Journalism I is a one-semester course that prepares newspaper staffs for the coming semester, so there's always a journalism I and journalism II class in session. Right now, there are two journalism I classes, next semester each class will put out four issues of the paper on its own.

We study one phase of news-writing for about a week, like feature writing, and then have approximately a week to complete assignments on the current topic. It takes a lot of time, but it's worth it!

The only job, directly connected with the paper, the journalism I students have their first semester is to fold the paper every other Wednesday morning and distribute them at 7:30 a.m. — "dirty work"!

I hope you all enjoy reading the paper and the assignment sheet. I really enjoy "The Red and Black"!

Time To Make New Year's Resolutions

By BOB ANDERSON

As we enter this New Year season, we start thinking of resolutions that may help prosper in the coming year. These resolutions may only last for a couple of days, but it is in some ways, makes us more conscious of what we are doing.

Webster's definition of a resolution is the determination to do something. If you are determined to keep good resolutions, you will grow into becoming a better citizen and fellow student.

Here is a list of ten resolutions for 1965 that are taken from a monthly paper called "Reporter". If you will follow these closely for the next school year, you will truly find value in them.

They are: 1. "Take time to study — it enables you to live intelligently." 2. "Take time to work — it is the price of success." 3. "Take time to think — it is the source of power." 4. "Take time to read — it is the foundation of knowledge." 5. "Take time to help friends — it is the source of happiness." 6. "Take time for recreation — it is the secret of joy." 7. "Take time to help others — it is the key to humanity." 8. "Take time to dream — it hitches the soul to the stars." 9. "Take time to laugh — it helps with life's road." 10. "Take time to plan — it is the secret of being able to have time to take time for the first nine things."

Now in case you are one of those people who doesn't believe in resolutions, always keep this in mind for a more prosperous year. Promise yourself to look only for the best in boys and girls you meet and to maintain intelligent optimism, come what may. You will find yourself being a happier individual and others will find you a more congenial fellow student.

Customs of Christmas

By CHERYL BRAY

Merry Christmas! Frohe Weihnachten! Buon Natale! Feliz Natal! Joyeux Noel! Gladelig Jul! No matter what tongue, the words have the same meaning and significance — peace, joy, good will, and most important, Christ's birth. Each nationality observes Christmas day in its own way, confident that its customs are more exciting and meaningful than those of any other.

The Christmas season opens Dec. 6 in many of the European countries. For some of these Dec. 6 is the day of gift giving and Christmas is reserved for feasting, caroling, and visiting friends.

In most countries of the world, Christmas is observed Dec. 25. Ever thought of observing Christmas by eating boiled spinach the Armenian way?

The Christmas tree we treasure dearly had its origin in Scandinavia where pagan tree worship was common.

If you're having a yule log this year don't allow it to burn out during the Christmas season and keep a piece to start the fire next year!

Some might be interested in the way Sweden, Denmark, Germany, and Norway celebrate Christmas. A rice pudding containing one almond is served. The person who finds the almond will be married before next Christmas.

Most of Europe celebrates Christmas on the Eve and not the day.

The Christmas tree, adorned for the occasion, is placed in the lonely graveyards of parts of Germany on Christmas Eve. Swedish custom has it that the Julklapp, a small gift in a large package is brought to the door, then the given knocks on the door and rushes off to remain anonymous.

The wassail bowl enjoyed in English custom contains tale spices and toasted apples.

Yugoslavia celebrates the second Sunday before Christmas as Mother's Day and the first Sunday before Christmas as Father's Day. On the respective day the parent is tied to a chair by the children and must present gifts to be freed.

Picnics are as important to the Australian Christmas as the pinata is to the Mexican Christmas.

Canadians feed all cats well to ward off bad luck.

A "white Christmas" is not a snow-clad holiday but occurs when groups get together a few days before Christmas, caroling giving baskets of canned foods and dressed turkeys, chicken, fruits and cakes. These are all wrapped in white paper, piled around the tree and then taken to the poor.

Albanians prepare a meal of sweets on Christmas Eve and at the meal's end each person leaves a spoonful of food on his plate. Then everyone rises. Together they pick up the table and swing it back and forth singing, "May there be plenty in this house. May the time for a wedding be near!"

As for America, who can't tell of an American Christmas? The Americanspirit, not the customs, is wondrously different and who'd have it any other way?

Teacher of the Week

By BOB PRITCHARD

We feel honored to have Mr. Fred Goeglein as our teacher for this week.

Mr. Goeglein lives at 605 Garden Parkway. His wife's name is Joan. They are the parents of two children, Kathy and Danny. Kathy is in the seventh grade at S. Court St. School and Danny is a third grader at Atwater School.

Mr. Goeglein is a graduate of his home town high school at Pomeroy. For his training in the education field he attended both Marietta College and Ohio University graduating from Marietta College in 1952.

In the fall of 1952 he started his teaching career at Circleville, teaching both eighth grade and high school subjects. For the past five years he has been teaching strictly in the social studies area of the high school.

For the past eight years Mr. Goeglein has served as audiovisual director of the Circleville school system in addition to his teaching duties. As audio-visual director he is responsible for the use and distribution of all audio-visual materials in the school system. These materials range all the way from maps and charts to educational films, filmstrips, and tapes. Recently he has been working with the use of educational television in some of the city schools.

When asked about his philosophy of education he made the following comments: "From the point of view of my teaching area in social studies I feel that the high school should prepare the student, as much as possible, for life as it actually exists in society today. He should be prepared to take his place as a responsible citizen of the United States realizing the goals and objectives of our free society. I feel a student should have a complete understanding of what makes up our American heritage not only from the point of view of general historical facts, but an understanding of the values inherent in documents like the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution. A student should be trained to realize the meaning of respect for law, freedom of belief, concern for the public welfare as a whole, and the promotion of our constitutional democracy. In order to do this students should be trained to look, listen, and read intelligently. They should examine the traits of men and women they admire with a view towards their own picture of success. Students should learn to tell truth from falsehood, fact from opinion, and the real from the phony.

FRED GOEGLIN

"I also feel students should be trained to reach their full potential while in high school with a hope that this will carry over into adult life. They should be helped to realize they should not go through life with their brakes on, but should work to the upper limits of their mental and physical powers."

Key Clubbers Adopt Child

By DICK CRABLE

This is the time of year when materialism is not as important as "peace on earth and good will toward men."

At such a time, it is only natural for a group of active young men, such as are in the CHS Key Club, to look for a deed or project that would truly grasp the spirit of the season. And this they have done.

In a few days, one will be able to look in any Key Clubber's wallet and see at least one picture common to all. That is because, to the Key Club, Santa Claus has brought "adoption" papers that make each Key Clubber an honorary "father". Under the plan of the Christian Children's Fund Inc. a 13-year-old girl from South Madras, India, not only gained 37 relatives and 20-30 Christmas cards but also food, clothing and proper shelter for a year.

The following is a brief history of Sushila Kambale, reported to be a likable, kind, helpful little girl. Sushila, whose name means "Virtue" is 13 years old and in the fifth grade. She is in a vocational training program, learning sisal work. Her progress is satisfactory. Her favorite subject is handicrafts. Her chores at the orphanage are dusting. Her favorite playtime activities are team games.

Sushila's family has always lived in abject poverty for they shared the privation and want which are the lot of India's masses. Yet the father tries so hard to keep them going, but he often can't find a job of any kind, so that they usually know the pinch of hunger. To add to their critical situation the mother has had several serious operations so that she can't give the children proper care. Therefore Sushila lives at Mrs. Webb's Memorial Orphanage in Madras, South India.

The home has its own well, but no running water. All of it has to be carried to supply the needs of its 110 children. In fact, it would be difficult to find a Christian Children's Fund Home that was more needed than Mrs. Webb's or more in need of help with its problems. The existence of so many children in Madras is one of wretched hunger, of rags, filth and hopelessness. It is surprising that many of the children in the Home are from Hindu High Caste families who are destitute. The change that comes over them in just a few weeks of care is remarkable.

Though this is not the only project undertaken by the CHS Key Club, we feel it is one of the most worthwhile. We realize that America needs friends that personal aid is the most desirable kind, and that at Christmas time nothing could be more appropriate than to feed and clothe a deserving human being less fortunate than we.

Christmas Assembly Held

By NANCY PICKEL

The annual Christmas Program was opened on Tuesday by the high school choir singing "I Wish You A Merry Christmas", "Carol of the Bells" and "Carol of the Drum".

Charles Martin then told the assembly of "Typical Christmas Reactions". The Girls' Trio followed with "Bright Bright the Holly Berries" and "Pum Pum Pum". Ray Ferguson continued the program by telling the Christmas Spectacle.

The Triple Trio returned to sing "Sleep of the Child Jesus" and "The Inn at Bethlehem." (Who Knocks So Loud). "Do We Have Time?" was the topic for Phil Conrads' presentation. "A Star Was His Candle" and "Do You Hear What I Hear" were presented by the choir. The very appropriate "Story of Christmas" was the theme for Caryll McCoskey's talk. The audience joined with the choir in singing "Silent Night" after the choir sang "Sleep My Little Jesus" and "O Holy Night."

It was truly inspiring and a wonderful way to end school at a time of reverence.

A well-attended Christmas vesper program was presented by the Circleville High School Choir on Sunday in the high school auditorium. The music was truly inspiring to all present.

Pictures were delivered to grades 8-11 on Monday.

Some teachers and office personnel attended the Latin Christmas Program Tuesday.

The office practice classes held a surprise party for Mrs. Brobst on Dec. 21.

Journalism Class Wishes All a Merry Christmas

Dave Amey — Christmas is happiness — not the joy of getting, but the joy of giving. My mother is a good example. She works days and cleans house at night. But during Christmas she spends whatever spare time she has making things. She gets as much satisfaction from making peanut brittle and giving it to the children as I would from getting an A in physics. This is true because I know she deserves the happiness she gets from giving, but I wouldn't deserve the gift of an A. Christmas to her is in a sense making peanut brittle. Christmas to me is watching her face when she gives it to my cousins and many others.

Larry Stout — This time of the year brings happiness and joy to just about everyone in the world. As you walk down the street you notice that people hold their heads a little higher their eyes are brighter, and their smiles are a little friendlier.

The true meaning of Christmas has all but been forgotten. Some people associate Christmas with the giving of gifts and good cheer.

Starting early in November, people begin to buy gifts for their friends. They spend the rest of the month putting together and wrapping these gifts. Then Christmas Eve or Christmas Day they distribute these gifts among their families and friends. They go about the day giving and receiving with little or no concern for the greatest gift ever given to them and to the world — Jesus Christ.

This year put Christ back in Christmas and prepare your schedule so you and your family can worship in the church of your choice.

Bob Pritchard — Christmas means many things to many people. To me it means shopping the getting and giving of gifts a beautiful tree mistletoe parties and an old year speeding to an end.

It means seeing little children telling Santa what they want for Christmas. It means church programs and re-enactment of the Christmas story. It means that we will remember everything which has happened during the past year and wish we could live it all over again (without one single change being made).

Patti Jeffries — As you look around, you have the feeling of Christmas sweep over you. Trees are decorated; presents are bought and wrapped; little ones are running to see Santa with bright and eager eyes. Somewhere a church bell is ringing to tell of the coming of the Christ Child. I hope this year is a joyous one for everyone.

Joyce Jacobs — What do people think Christmas really means? Is Christmas just a time of gay festivities and gifts? Is the true meaning of Christmas being forgotten more and more each year? Are people so occupied worrying about gifts and company coming at Christmas they forget the true meaning? Don't you think it's time we slowed down our pace for shopping and parties and remember that Christmas is Christ's birthday?

Carolyn Lewis — What really is Christmas? Some people are making Christmas only a time of exchanging gifts and gathering together for a special dinner with all the trimmings; a time when small children go to bed on Christmas Eve to wait for Santa Claus to leave gifts. Is this really the true meaning of Christmas? Have we forgotten that on this day the Christ Child was born and that wise men came from afar to bring gifts of gold, frankincense, and myrrh. That this is really why we have Christmas?

Robert Anderson — If there is anything I do not like to see it is Christmas spelled Xmas. I don't know whether it is just lack of spelling ability or just pure laziness, but if a person can't spell Christmas in full he should not spell it at all. When you write it using X you are marking Christ out of Christmas. The Christmas season is for celebrating the coming of the Christ Child, not for crossing him out.

Linda Goodman — When someone is asked "What is Christmas?" the first thoughts that come to mind are "gifts"; "more money down the drain"; "Maybe I'll receive something for my new kitchen!" What makes people say these things? Do they realize what the basis of Christmas really means?

Christmas is one day, just one that people should take time-out to remember some of the wonderful things that have happened to them. The world takes too much advantage of this day without even thinking.

Nancy Pickel — Was Scrooge right when he said, "Every idiot who goes about with Merry Christmas on his lips should be boiled with his own pudding and buried with a stake of holly through his heart?"

Christmas is more than gifts, decoration of cookies and candies, and cards. It is a religious holiday and the traditions and customs are truly religious. But one thing is lacking — religion on the part of some people. Christmas should stem from the heart and if it does, then the material symbols of the holiday will take on new meaning.

But was Scrooge right? No I don't feel he was! Even Scrooge changed his attitude. Sure, there are people who only think of the materialistic part of Christmas, but they are in the minority. It's a joy, a spirit that cannot be destroyed. Children try to be good in order that they may receive the blessings of their parents. Adults think of their past Christmases, of the cheer and good will that was given to them and now they are thrilled by giving. As you sit in church think of the "Greatest Gift" and then give. Merry Christmas!

Cheryl Bray — All the world is not a "stage". It is rather a voice crying out, begging to be heard. The voice of suffering, sorrow, bitterness, worry, and most of all, uneasiness. A voice with the pitch of disaster's bring that can't seem to harmonize within itself.

But now it's Christmas and all discord stops for a moment. A new tune is born and the lyrics, concealed in each heart, break forth in unison, "God bless us all! Make this world bright with the light of hope, joy, love, charity, and tranquility. Give each life meaning not destructive futility and make us believe that hope is not futile, for life is hope. Thank you a thousand times thank you, for the second chance all nations and peoples are given in the one true Christmas gift."

Patti Jeffries — Christmas is: The eager shining eyes of children; a tall and beautiful pine tree decorated by the family; the Christ Child wrapped in swaddling clothes; a mother's joy when children scream with delight; the hustle and bustle of shoppers; the smell of cookies and candy being prepared; the stream of lights as you look around; the singing of praises and carols unto Jesus; being with loved ones who have been away; giving rather than receiving.

Patsy Gallion — Christmas is here! Children are excited and waiting for Santa with his bag of toys. Mom and dad are getting ready for Santa, parties, and Christmas Eve services (please be careful while driving)

HOLIDAY SNAPSHOT — When you send your thank you note for a Christmas gift enclose a snapshot to show it's enjoyed. Here's one that shows how much one little girl liked her present, a huggable Raggedy Ann doll.

Use Greeting Cards in Holiday Decor

By ELEANOR ROSS
A lot of people enjoy their Christmas card greetings to the fullest — after the big day is over — by putting them on display as a decorative asset. Artistic, varied, colorful and imaginatively decorated, Christmas cards bring more than a gay note of special decor to the holiday festivities.

They add warmth, sentiment and personality, too, for they are vivid reminders of loved ones and friends at Christmas time.

So, when fixing up the house for the holiday-calling, remember that readily available Christmas cards make unusually effective trimmings when tastefully displayed.

You might, for example, combine cards and candles to create a table-top tableau telling the ancient, but ever-new Christmas story.

Choose a selection depicting the journey to Bethlehem, the appearance of the Star, the trip of the Wise Men, the Nativity or the Adoration. You can arrange these beautiful cards around a small creche flanked with candles.

Or, maybe you would prefer to attach the cards to a folding cardboard screen covered with gold paper to serve as a background for a religious statue or grouping.

To turn brightly colored cards into a colorful wall decoration, cut a giant tree — shape from green felt. Tape it to the wall and just add your cards to the "tree".

You can also use wide strips of red satin ribbon to show your holiday greetings. Ribbons may be taped to either side of a doorway or window. If curtains don't interfere run ribbons right down the window, attaching them to the frame at top and bottom.

You can use these ribbons for a two-sided display, by taping or stapling cards to both sides, thus making a window decoration that's as attractive out-of-doors as well as in.

Here's another thought — why not make one or more Christmas mobiles. Kids love this idea — mobiles fascinate them and these can easily be constructed, using coat hangers.

For a decorative touch that is quite different, strip an old umbrella of fabric, spray the spokes gold, and anchor the handle in soil or clay to make an umbrella card tree.

Hang the cards with red and green ribbons. Add a few small ornaments or some green sprigs and you've created a real conversation piece — a novel decoration that is likely to be the center of interest.

Remember also that cards can be taped on the window panes. This decorative idea is especially effective on multipaned windows with one card centered on each section.

Cards can also be displayed artistically under the glass top of a coffee table or buffet.

Try this — include Christmas greetings in the wreath or other decoration that you have on your door.

One other thought — why not empty a bookshelf or two and use it as a stand-up display of your cards.

The whole idea is to show the cards and add to the decorative holiday effect.

when you send your Thank You note!

If the gift in question happens to be a camera, turn it on the Christmas home scene and take a picture that shows your gift went right into action.

Christmas offers countless good photographic possibilities, so get the camera and lights ready and wait for action that's appealing before you shoot.

A snapshot that's to go with a Thank You note should show the gift being opened or, even better, being enjoyed.

For example, you might picture Dad lighting one of his cigars, the baby attempting a building project with his blocks, Sis sound asleep cuddling her new doll. Or snap Junior wearing his fire hat or Mom trying on her earrings or necklace.

Here are nine tips to help you take great Christmas pictures for family, friends or your own photograph album.

1. In advance, check your camera and lights. Make sure they're operational and ready to use.

The new instant-type camera, which takes just seconds to load, does away with the film fumbling and threading that so often let a golden picture-taking opportunity slip away.

2. On Christmas Eve, leave the camera handy so you'll be ready to take the first fabulous picture of the children as their sleepy eyes widen with wonder at the beauty of the gift-wrapped packages that Santa Claus left beneath it.

3. Have fresh batteries, extra flashlights and a good supply of film on hand.

4. Use color film to capture the gay glow of Christmas.

5. Leave on as many room lights as possible so that indoor pictures are clear and bright.

6. Work at getting close-up shots that catch expressions of anticipation and wonder. Come as close as your camera will allow.

7. Add interest to pictures by switching your camera position. Step on a chair for a good overall view; stoop to catch a toddler at his own level; move about to find the best picture-taking site.

8. Don't pose people. Let the natural excitement of the day direct the action and you'll get lively shots.

9. Record visits of guests — especially the family members and friends you see infrequently. You can use these shots to make your own picture guest book, and you can also send prints to your visitors as a reminder of the happy holiday you spent together.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

A Bit Too Late

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter is 17 and a senior in high school. We have never had any trouble with her but we have never told her anything about the facts of life, either, so we can't be sure what she knows and what she doesn't know. She and her girl friend were invited to a university for a college weekend. It is about a two-hour ride on the bus from here. If you have a book on ALL the facts of life for girls that age, please send it C.O.D. right away because she is leaving Friday on the 4:00 bus. I thank you.

WORRIED MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: I could send a book, but even if it were to arrive before the bus left, it would be approximately four years too late. You had better have a mother-daughter chat with her before she boards the bus.

DEAR ABBY: Lately my home has been like a public telephone booth. We seem to be the only ones in this neighborhood with a phone. For instance this week we got three long-distance calls for people who live down the block. They gave our number as their contact without even asking us. Then a woman I never saw before rang our bell and asked if she could use our phone. I thought it was an emergency (car trouble or something) but it turned out she just wanted to confirm some plans with a friend. She sat and talked for half an hour while I felt like a stranger in my own home. Last night another woman came over around midnight to call a tavern to see if her husband was there. I hate to be unfriendly, but I don't like being taken advantage of. How can I get this across? Don't use my real name or it will be mud.

WAVERLY, OHIO
DEAR WAVERLY: Why any one should apologize for guarding his privacy is beyond me. Helping a neighbor is friendly. Letting people "use" you is foolishness. Let each presumptuous neighbor know how you feel the first time he oversteps his bounds, and don't worry about what your name will be.

DEAR ABBY: I have been plagued ever since my Daddy died six months ago. You see, I had a new red dress and a coat to match, and I wore it to the funeral. At the time I did not even think of the color, I swear to you. I just wore the newest and nicest thing I had, and that was it. Ever since then I have had ugly remarks made to me by my family. We are just poor folks. I am the only one of nine children who went to college. (I went on a scholarship and graduated.) I am 38 and married. My mother told me that because of what I wore to my Daddy's funeral I disgraced the family. Please give me your opinion.

NORTH CAROLINA
DEAR NORTH: I believe that you meant no disrespect by wearing red to your Daddy's funeral. When a person is upset, he doesn't think of clothing. How come, I wonder if the other members of your family were in such deep mourning, they noticed what you were wearing? Don't let it bother you, Dear. The Lord knows your heart was pure.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "Athlete In Anaheim": What a sad day it will be for you when your heart is full of gratitude and you have no one to thank.

Youth Feted With Party

Ricky Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Myers, 229 E. High St., who will be eight years old tomorrow, was honored with a birthday party yesterday at his home. Kathryn Wooten was co-hostess.

Refreshments were served. A holiday theme was used including a decorated Christmas tree. Games were played and prizes won by Thelma Ogan and Sherry Roan.

Others present were John Beck, Gary Young, Allen Swank, Jeff and Randy Myers, Sheila Myers, Billy Jo Swank, Pam Myers, Sally Foll, Donna Messenger, Kay Downing, Linda Ogan, Barbara Ogan and Glenda Wooten.

A gift was sent by his aunt, Mrs. Thomas Brannan.

FOR A.F.L. TITLE—Offensive stars of the Buffalo Bills and the San Diego Chargers, who meet for the American Football League title in Buffalo Saturday, December 26, are ready to go. Bills finished with 12-2 and Chargers with 8-5-1.

Pro Grid Championships To Highlight Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The weather looms large over the two pro football title games this weekend, which wound up by coincidence in a pair of stadiums on the Great Lakes where winter usually hits harder than Jimmy Brown.

The American Football League settles its championship first, with the defending champion San Diego Chargers visiting the Buffalo Bills Saturday afternoon.

The next day, Johnny Unitas leads the Baltimore Colts, Western Division champs, against the Cleveland Browns, the Eastern winners, in the National Football League's title struggle. A full house of about 41,000 is due at Buffalo Saturday, with 83,000 expected in the big Cleveland Stadium Sunday.

Despite the fact that temperatures in the 30s are about the best that can be hoped for in either city, both games could have sold out twice.

The NFL's title game has been played in a deep freeze for the last three years—Green Bay, New York and Chicago—and with the Cleveland site this year has revived suggestions that the title game be moved regularly to some place with more balmy December weather. The chances of that seem slim.

"Every time it is mentioned I get a flood of letters opposing it," says NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle.

San Diego took the AFL title last year in California, 51-10, over the Boston Patriots. Veteran Tobin Rote was the quarterback in that game and will be playing his last game for the Chargers on Saturday.

This year John Hadl may be at quarterback. If Hadl runs the club and wins he will be the first championship quarterback the AFL has ever had who did not play in the older NFL first. Jackie Kemp, the Buffalo quarterback, has an NFL background and also played for San Diego before the Chargers let him get away to Buffalo for $100.

The Bills are a slight choice. Unitas and the Colts are the favorites in the NFL game, despite the crunching rushing of fullback Brown for Cleveland.

"I'm worried about the weather," Brown says. "A runner has to have the right conditions. It's a shame that weather plays such an important part in such a big game."

This is the first NFL title game for the Colts since they won a pair in 1958-59.

The Browns, once perennial title contenders, have not played for the championship since 1957, when they were bombed by Detroit.

Junk Yard Fencing Law Goes to Court

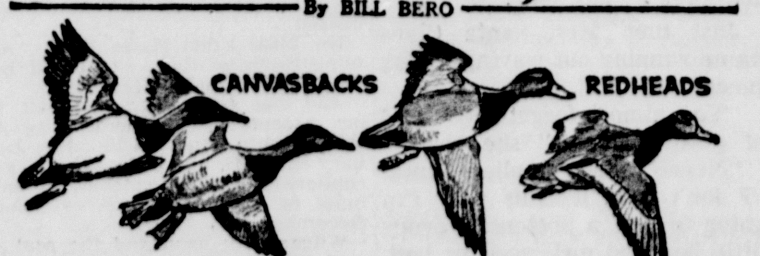

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Clark County Auto Wreckers Inc., filed a suit yesterday challenging a new state law requiring fences around junk yards.

The association named Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe and three Clark County officials as defendants. The suit in common pleas court seeks an injunction to prevent state and county officials from enforcing some sections of a law passed by the last legislature dealing with licensing and fencing of junk yards in unincorporated areas.

U. S. Open champion Ken Venturi will be pointing for the Los Angeles Open. He won the event in 1959 but last January he missed the cut for the final 18-hole round.

John Rotz rode 20 winners at the recent Saratoga meeting, 12 of them for Greentree Stable, to finish second in the jockey race. Manny Ycaza was first with 22 wins.

Dayton Wins Stalling Duel

Army '5' Defeated By 41-33 Count

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Shades of the 1930s. The score was 41-33.

Yep, it was basketball, all right.

At least, that's the way Army played it Wednesday night, but to no avail as Dayton's Flyers defeated the visiting cadets in a slow, dull game marked by boos from fans throughout.

Army took only 13 shots the first half and led 19-18 at the intermission. But the Flyers got the lead with eight minutes left and put on a deep freeze of their own.

The Flyers' Henry Finkel, 6-11 center and the nation's leading field goal marksman with 31 point game average, tallied only 13 but shared scoring honors with teammate Henry Burroughs.

In other action involving Ohio teams, Ohio University, led by Tom Davis with 23 points, surprised Northwestern's Wildcats 88-67. The lead changed ten times the first half before the Bobcats pulled away.

The University of Cincinnati's Bearcats jumped off to 21-10 lead in the first 11 minutes and scored a 71-56 victory over Oregon State. Oregon's Jim Jarvis topped all scorers with 21 but both clubs had trouble hitting from the field.

In another Cincinnati contest, Xavier came up with a respectable offensive score and outclassed St. Bonaventure of New York 100-78. Steve Thomas of Xavier hit a season high with 41 points.

At Philadelphia, St. Joseph's stood off surging Bowling Green 60-54 with an eight minute stall after being ahead of the Falcons by 16 points. Bowling Green is still winless.

Akron won the Rubber City Classic, hitting over 50 per cent from the field and defeated Westminster 78-66.

Bucknell of Pennsylvania won consolation honors by beating Capital 84-62.

In another game, Youngstown dropped Illinois Wesleyan 60-55. It was the Penguins' seventh straight victory.

The Houston Oilers of the American Football League and the University of Houston football team will use the new Domet Stadium next fall even before the National League baseball season ends.

North-South All-Star Tilt Slated Friday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Wayne Hardin and Ara Parseghian have their Heisman Trophy winning quarterbacks—Roger Staubach and John Huarte—for one more game, but Hardin and the South have Bob Hayes and Jerry Rhyme, too.

That added duo could provide the difference Friday in the North-South all-star college football game at Miami, one of three post-season contests scheduled for this holiday weekend.

Georgia and Texas Tech clash in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex., Saturday while the Blue and the Gray all-star teams meet at Montgomery, Ala.

Hardin, who recently resigned as coach at Navy where he had Staubach for three years, is one of the coaches of the star-studded South squad.

Parseghian, who helped pull Huarte from the ranks of obscurity to the Heisman Trophy, coaches the North along with Paul Dietzel of Army, Hardin's archrival for three years.

Staubach, along with Tulsa's Rhyme, will have an unusually speedy target in Hayes, the Florida A&M flash who is receiving his first crack at major competition.

The North spent 1½ hours Wednesday on ways of stopping the double gold medalist.

"They'll complete some passes on us, but our main concern is to stop them from getting the long bomb," Parseghian said.

Dietzel and Parseghian hope to offset Hayes' potential with Herman Johnson of Michigan State, a defensive specialist who has range, speed and size needed to stop the South end.

Georgia will have a problem of its own in the Sun Bowl. The Bulldogs must stop Donnie Anderson, third-best rusher in the nation who also caught 32 passes for 396 yards. He ran for 966 yards, an average of 4.6 yards per carry.

Georgia has no one to match Anderson, but quarterback Preston Ridlehuber likes to run with the ball. In fact, he set a school record this season for yards gained rushing by a T formation signal-caller.

The Blue and Gray squads, meanwhile, finished up their workouts today with Blue Coach Murray Warmath of Minnesota and Gray Coach Paul Davis of Mississippi State both optimistic.

The big bowl weekend comes next week with the Rose, Cotton, Orange and Sugar Bowls set for Friday and the Gator Bowl and East-West game scheduled for Saturday.

Detroit Lions'

No. 1 Coach Quits

DETROIT (AP)—George Wilson quit as head coach if the Detroit Lions Wednesday in the wake of an apparent power struggle over the extent of his authority under millionaire owner William Clay Ford.

The resignation came less than 48 hours after Wilson was said to have agreed in a conference with Ford and General Manager Edwin J. Anderson to fire all five of his assistant coaches. The firings reportedly came despite strong objections from Wilson. They were announced in a Lions news release.

Wilson walked hurriedly out of the Lions' offices without comment Wednesday.

Yankee rookie Mel Stottlemyre, who started three World Series games, led the International League with a 1.42 earned run record while pitching for Richmond.

UofC Cagers Coming Back, Chalk 5th Straight Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
This will be a happy Christmas for Ed Jucker, the basketball coach at the University of Cincinnati.

His Bearcats, who won the national collegiate championship in 1961 and 1962 and just missed an unprecedented third straight crown in 1963, are on the way back. They didn't qualify for the NCAA championship tournament last season.

Jucker's boys won their fifth straight Wednesday night with a 71-56 home-court victory over Oregon State. Five baskets in quick succession by sophomore Jerry Couzins broke a 41-41 tie and the Beavers never caught up.

The Bearcats now boast a 6-1 record. They beat George Washington in their opener, then lost to Miami of Ohio. Since then they have swept Louisville, Kansas, Centenary, Denver and Oregon State. Their next game is a first-round game against Temple Monday night in the Holiday Festival at New York, a tournament in which they might encounter top-ranked Michigan.

Michigan warmed up for its first game against Monahan by crushing Butler 99-81. A crowd of 8,000 packed the Yost Fieldhouse at Ann Arbor to watch the Wolverines chalk up their sixth victory in seven starts. Cazzie Russell scored 21 points and Bill Buntin 19.

The fifth-ranked San Francisco Dons, the only other team in The Associated Press Top Ten to see action, made it six straight against no defeats by defeating Utah State 86-71. Big

Baylor Recovers Old Shooting Eye

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Elgin Baylor, his leg trouble apparently a thing of the past, is looking like the Baylor of old these days.

The evidence: 83 points in his last two games.

Baylor collected 43 points Wednesday night in leading the Los Angeles Lakers to a 135-117 National Basketball Association victory over the Philadelphia 76ers.

The victory boosted Los Angeles' Western Division lead to 2½ games over St. Louis, which was idle, as was the rest of the NBA.

Dec. 27 Said Christmas for NFL Gridders

CLEVELAND (AP)—Christmas is Dec. 27 as far as the Baltimore Colts and Cleveland Browns are concerned.

That's the date of the National Football League championship game in Municipal Stadium, and Santa will leave over $8,000 in each winner's stocking. Each loser will receive over $5,000.

Radio and television receipts are $1.8 million.

The game will be witnessed by about 83,000 here, an attendance drop in the bucket when compared with the television audience scattered over 98.1 per cent of the country and into Canada, where 30 french-language stations will be among those telecasting the action.

Kickoff is 1:30 p.m., EST. The Weather Bureau predicts temperatures in the upper 20s or low 30s, but as of Thursday no snow is forecast.

The Colts have been a 6-to-7 point favorites for about a week now.

Bedeviled Republicans

So many Republicans are nursing so many wounds that any prediction about the possibility of party harmony would be worthless. But maybe an exploration of the crisis - cross of present jealousies is worth setting forth, if only to provoke some thoughts about the shortsightedness of much of the intra-party factionalism.

To begin with, there is no real unity among the Republican governors who are supposedly of one accord in wanting to depose Dean Burch as chairman of the party's National Committee. Governor Rhodes of Ohio has taken no part in the anti-Burch cabal. Governor Mark Hatfield of Oregon has been extremely circumspect, and his friends are now recalling that he stood apart from the "get Goldwater" group at the Cleveland Governors' Conference last June even though his convention vote was pledged to Nelson Rockefeller of New York.

Other governors who definitely want to replace Burch can't settle on any candidate of their own. The names of Len Hall of New York, Ray Bliss of Ohio, Wayne Hood of Wisconsin and Clifton White, who organized the Draft Goldwater movement but who has had his doubts about the way the Presidential campaign was conducted, have all been mentioned as possible substitutes for Burch. Governor Rockefeller's man, George Hinman, has been quoted as favoring Ray Bliss for what this is worth. But here is so much jealousy among

Daughter's Letter Defines That Which is Christmas

EDITOR'S NOTE — Here is a letter received by a Circleville father and mother from a married daughter. The message is of particular interest at the Christmas season because in it it contained that which is Christmas itself: the spirit of love and thankfulness.

We came to the agreement that Christmas would be only for the children this year — that no gifts need be bought for the adults. After all, what does a gift say? It says that the giver spent perhaps five or ten dollars in memory of St. Nick.

What I am giving you two this year is in the memory of Christ whose birth we celebrate on December 25.

I extend to you the gift of love. Don't regard my gift as cheap or bought on the spur of the moment. It comes from twenty-two years of consideration. It is wrapped with care, in respect and devotion.

I couldn't find this gift in a store because it has no monetary value. Yet it is precious, as precious as the years of our being together. Who could have bought the hours we spent around the coal stove reading aloud the stories and poetry of childhood? The walks we took in the snow, the picnics we had in the summer, the fish we caught, the leaves gathered, the dresses Mom sewed to clothe me?

We never had much money, and it used to make me so angry because I didn't have some of the things other kids had. I used to think that if I just had nice things it would make everything perfect. All the while, I overlooked that which I had that some of my friends would have given anything for: wonderful parents.

The things I envied other children for had little value in comparison. Would my owning their possessions have given me better health? Would it have contributed to the things I have now and consider most dear — a wonderful husband, home and family? I don't see how. Perhaps, those I envied, envy me now.

I can look back on my childhood with a sense of gratitude and pride, realizing that my love for you grows out of the love you shared with me. I hope that some day when my children are grown and have families of their own, I will find in my mailbox a gift of love.

YOUR DAUGHTER

NFO Plans Membership Drive Here

The Pickaway County National Farmer's Organization made plans for a membership drive during its December meeting in the 4-H and Grange Building at the Fairgrounds.

During the session, conducted by Miles Kahler, county NFO president, it was announced that $60 will be sent to the families of the two NFO members who were killed at Bonduel, Wis., during a demonstration held in conjunction with the organization's recent holding action.

The next meeting will include the election of county officers and is scheduled 8 p.m. Jan. 19 in the 4-H and Grange Building.

Reports were given by the county delegates who attended the National Farmers Organization convention in Minneapolis, Minn. NFO representatives heard Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman who, in his address to the convention asked the NFO to support the administration's farm programs. Freeman said that the administration's farm programs are designed to achieve parity of income for agriculture in the 60s.

Vince Rossiter, a banker in Harrington, Neb., said that Freeman's concept of price parity is a poor substitute likely to be achieved only after two million farmers are driven from the land according to the local delegates. Rossiter said that the last four years of farm policy has been disappointing and that any gains in farm income were largely the result of more government payments, the delegates reported.

Oren Lee Staley, NFO president was elected to a tenth term. He had undergone an emergency appendectomy three days before the convention and he gave his state of affairs speech by special telephone hookup from his hospital bed.
